Our Promise

By using Farmers Hen House eggs in your operation, you will be insured of less broken yolks when serving to your customers. Whether you are serving breakfast lunch or dinner, our eggs taste better with yolk intact dishes / with your recipes holding up much better than using conventional eggs.

On-Farm Grain Cycle

From hens fed a 100% organic non-GMO vegetarian diet. Raising organic hens begins with a commitment to organic farming. Many of our farmers grow their own organic grains right here in the Midwest. This creates an on-farm cycle of growing grain, feeding it to the hens, then taking their waste and returning it to the fields to fertilize the next crop.

Raised on Certified Humane® farms. Animal welfare is our utmost concern. Our farms are independently owned and managed by environmentally responsible Amish and Mennonite farmers.
